

Federico Fellini - 8 1/2 (Italy, 1963) - A film about filmmaking and the struggles of the creative process. The director at the center of this movie does not know what to do next. He is distracted by expectations, a mental block, and his complicated love life. It's a comedy-drama-fantasy that must also be seen as autobiographical. There is just nothing like it. It is pure Fellini. The title is a reference to the number of films that Fellini had made up to that time. 8 1/2 won the 1963 Foreign Film Oscar and over the past sixty years it consistently appears on lists of the greatest films of all time.
